

Spring Weddings Fairfield County Style

"I Do!"

*If you're planning
a spring wedding,
make sure to invite Mother Nature*

Spring is wedding season, and here in Fairfield County, Mother Nature does her part to provide the perfect settings for romance. Sweet flowers will bloom and the annual ritual of spring birdfall has well underway to ensure that couples have everything they need to celebrate their perfect day.

"Every bride dreams of the perfect wedding," says Bloomer member Cole Goldbach Lutz, former editor-in-chief of Hyden. She imagines and runs a wedding industry consultation. "The difference is that in Fairfield County, where there are so many spectacular venues and where there is such a broad range of wedding resources available, couples are much more likely to meet their own individual style, thereby achieving the dream of the perfect wedding for them."
